

LUXURY

LUXURY MAGAZINE

SPRING 2016

HANDY WORK

For millennia artisans have crafted furniture and objects the old-fashioned way: by hand. What this requires is skill, a connection to materials, and a desire to make something unique. What it doesn't require is a big facility full of machinery, tons of industrial waste to dispose of, and an attitude of "good enough" when one's design vision must be compromised because production capabilities focus on quantity rather than quality.

Handcrafted concrete Avalon 62- and 72-
inch tubs in slate finish.
Native Trails, $7,500-
$8,800, nativetrails.net.