Native Trails Unveils Three New NativeStone® Sink Designs for the Kitchen, Merging Timeless Style and Function

With multiple mounting options and distinct finishes, Farmhouse 2418, Farmhouse Double Bowl and Farmhouse Quartet are exciting additions for today's kitchen

SAN LUIS OBISPO, CALIF. (Jan. 1, 2016) – Native Trails, the eco-chic company renowned for its luxurious artisan-made kitchen, bath and lifestyle products, today introduced three new NativeStone® sinks for the kitchen, including Farmhouse 2418, Farmhouse Double Bowl and Farmhouse Quartet. These three distinct styles seamlessly combine form with function and offer multiple mounting options. Available in Ash (a light, yet rich gray), Slate (a darker hue) and Pearl (a glowing off white) finishes, the sinks hit showrooms March 1, 2016.

“When it comes to customers who want the look and durability of concrete without the fragility, look no further than our line of NativeStone® kitchen sinks,” said Naomi Neilson Howard, founder and CEO of Native Trails. “The fact that you can mount each of these new sinks in very different ways gives our customers the flexibility to showcase the sink their way – often as the focal point in the heart of the home.”

Neilson Howard continued, “Our version of concrete – NativeStone® – is not only incredibly on-trend, it is one of the least energy intensive materials one can specify as a sink. We worked long and hard to create a material that’s both beautiful and tough. NativeStone® is the eco-friendly hero of the kitchen – and incredibly stain resistant.”

Native Trails’ exclusive NativeStone® material uses an innovative mixture of jute fiber and cement. It weighs approximately 40 percent less than standard concrete – and its exclusive nanosealer renders it highly stain and chip resistant. NativeStone® offers the sleek look of concrete without the hassle.

Farmhouse Quartet is a one-of-a-kind kitchen sink designed with flexibility in mind. With four installation options – apron-front or undermount (no visible apron), bow-front or straight-front – Farmhouse Quartet is Native Trails’ most versatile sink to date.

Farmhouse Quartet is priced at $1,795 and available in Ash, Slate and Pearl finishes. (Dimensions: OD 33” x 20.5” x 10.25 | ID 30.5” x 18” x 9”)
